Dear Nadine:

Thank you again for your telephone call of today's date in connection with the referenced application. I confirm that a RCE was filed, by mail, March 8, 2005. However, it was subsequently noticed that, by inadvertent clerical error, the RCE transmittal provided the incorrect application serial number. Accordingly, the RCE was re-submitted on March 15, 2005 with the correct serial number. For your convenience, I am faxing you a complete copy of the re-submission of March 15, 2005 which includes a copy of the RCE. Please refer to the paper entitled "Resubmission of RCE and IDS" for a more detailed explanation.

If you need to further discuss the matter, please call my colleague Richard Sterner who is the agent handling this application. His direct dial is 212-819-8783.

Respectfully submitted,

RESUBMISSION OF RCE AND IDS

Sir:

On March 8, 2005, Applicants submitted a Request for Continued Examination and an Information Disclosure Statement, including copies of the cited references. This submission was made prior to the March 14, 2005 deadline for payment of the issue fee, and the issue fee was not paid in light of the expectation that the application would be withdrawn from issue by the PTO upon receipt of the RCE.

However, it has just come to the attention of the undersigned that although the IDS and return receipt postcard provided the proper application Serial No. of 09/600,661, the RCE transmittal form provided the erroneous application Serial No. of 09/600,611. A subsequent check of the PAIR system revealed that the March 8, 2005 submission had been matched up (on March 11th) with the erroneously identified application, one that in fact issued as a patent more than two years ago.

Accordingly, Applicants are hereby submitting copies of the RCE transmittal (with hand-corrected application serial no.) and IDS (including the cited references) originally submitted on March 8, 2005. These materials should be matched up with the file for the intended application, i.e., Serial No. 09/600,661.

It is clear from all other identifying information (including the information on the RCE transmittal) provided with the previous submission, e.g., filing date, inventor and application title, that it was Applicants' intent to timely file an RCE in application Serial No. 09/600,661. Applicants' bona fide effort to reopen prosecution of the application prior to payment of the issue fee should not be prejudiced by the single inadvertent error in the RCE transmittal submitted March 8, 2005.

The $790 RCE fee has already been charged to Applicants' Deposit Account and should not be charged again. Provided herewith is a copy of the relevant page from the PTO Deposit Account Statement for March 2005 for Applicants' Deposit Account, No. 23-1703, showing the charging of the fee on March 15, 2005 to Applicants' Deposit Account but in connection with the application having the incorrect Serial No. of 09/600,611. Should any other fee be due, however, in connection with this communication, the Commissioner is hereby authorized to charge it to Deposit Account No. 23-1703.
